

Francesca BONELLI

26 years old

10, Via Lorenzo il Magnifico

50129, Florence, Italy

+39 331-78-82 790

francesca.bonelli@iusspavia.it

Education

2011-2016

High School Diploma: Liceo Classico "Istituti Edmondo De Amicis"- Milan

2018-20

Bachelor's Degree: Political Sciences (Political Communication and Media), University of Florence

Graduated with 110/110 cum laude

2020- 2022

Master Double Degree: International Relations and European Studies, University of Florence,
Moscow State Institute of International Relations

Graduated with 110/110 cum laude

October 2022- June 2023

Second Level Specializing Master: Politics and International Relations, LUMSA University, Rome

Graduated with 110/110 cum laude

December 2023 – December 2026

PhD: Sustainable Development and Climate Change, IUSS, Pavia

Professional Summary

Detail-oriented researcher with strong organizational skills. Ability to handle multiple projects simultaneously with a high degree of accuracy

Work History

July 2021

Department of Economics and Management

Courses, "Wellbeing entrepreneurship development in tourism" and "Sustainability perspectives: a focus on AI, energy and climate action", University of Florence

November-December 2022

Translator from Russian to Italian and Testimonial, "Foxford English School", Moscow

February 2022-April 2022

Internship, Russian International Affairs Council, Moscow

2017-2022

Export Magazine, transcriptions and translations of interviews (from or to French and English language)

2022-June 2023

Tutor for the Master course of “Linguistic Analysis” “Department of International Relations and European Studies” (RISE), University of Florence

December 2022- to Current

Specialist in the subject “Linguistic Analysis” with Prof. Francesca Ditifeci, “Department of International Relations and European Studies” (RISE), University of Florence

ICT and Internet

Microsoft Office, Excel, Prisma Protocol Utilization

Languages

English (C2); French (C2); Spanish (C2); Russian (C1); German (B2+)

I possess strong interpersonal skills and am accustomed to working in teams. I approach challenges and commitments with meticulousness and determination. Passionate about everything related to current affairs and interconnections between policies, actors and logics within the interstate space, with a particular focus on sustainability and its implications for global governance. Currently researching sustainable development and the double transition towards a sustainable, circular, bioeconomic mode, with a focus on the transition towards a just and sustainable fashion industry.